

PLAN A NEW GRAND CENTRAL STATION

Alterations to Be Made That Will Entirely Change the Depot.

ONE BIG WAITING ROOM.

It Will Be on Forty-second Street and There One Can Get All Trains.

The Grand Central Station is to be completely remodelled. The plans that have been adopted contemplate making the station one of the finest in the world, a rival to the Union Depot at St. Louis and the great station at Frankfurt-on-the-Main.

Samuel H. H. Jr., architect for the New York Central, has at last solved the problem of converting the building into one great station, where waiting rooms will be concentrated, and the ticket offices of the New Haven road, the Central and the New York and Harlem placed near each other, so that a passenger can take his train to any point without spending many minutes in a search for the proper entrance.

As contemplated, the station will have its main entrance on Forty-second street. The present waiting rooms of the New Haven road will be converted into a grand rotunda of marble and glass, which will have thirty-two arched openings.

Here will be the ticket offices, two in number, with fifteen windows. At the east end of the room will be a marble staircase, under which will be the approach to the elevated road.

Three kinds of marble will enter into the construction of the rotunda, and there will be a few rooms, a baggage room, a baggage room and a baggage room, where even baggage is provided.

The waiting room, or, as it is to be called, the concourse, will extend almost the entire present width of the station on Forty-second street.

The concourse will be approached from all sides, as well as from all trucks.

In the train shed the alterations will be as great. There will be twenty tracks, with platforms between each, raised to the level of the car platforms. There will be entrances and gates from the concourse for all trains, with indicators above each gate announcing the time of arrival or departure of the next train.

The entire length of the building on Vanderbilt avenue now used by the New York Central road will be devoted to the baggage business. There will be a subway, through which the baggage will be taken to or removed from each train by the means of elevators.

The cab stand will be at the east end on Forty-second street, under cover. A large restaurant will be on the second floor. In the basement an emigrant waiting room will be provided. The proposed changes will be begun as soon as possible.

The improvement will require some time to complete and will be very expensive.

TO GIVE THE PRESIDENT POWER TO END TRUSTS.

Expert Before the Industrial Commission Has a Scheme of Reform.

Washington, June 10.—The Industrial Commission to-day listened to a statement from S. M. Buynitzky, sugar expert in the Customs Bureau of the Treasury Department, concerning the methods in determining duties on sugar.

Mr. Buynitzky said he did not consider the differential system detrimental to the interest of the sugar consumer. He, however, considered there was a certain menace in trusts, and suggested as a remedy a law giving the President power to reduce the duty on imported articles in cases where they are made the basis of a trust.

USED HER HORSEWHIP ON THE WRONG MAN.

Chicago, June 10.—While sauntering along Jackson Boulevard yesterday Charles M. Bowman, of Detroit, was horsewhipped by a woman. He grappled with his assailant, and the woman discovered that she had whipped the wrong man.

"Mercy on me!" she cried, white with fear, "I thought you were my husband." The woman said her husband had been away from home more than a week and she had started out to find him, with the intention of publicly horsewhipping him. Bowman looked much like her recalcitrant husband, and he smilingly accepted the woman's apology.

SELECTING CENSUS CLERKS.

Washington, June 10.—To obtain the necessary force of clerks for the census, Interior Secretary Merriam has adopted a plan of allotting a pro rata number to each State, dividing this number among the members of each Congressional delegation.

The clerk will be appointed from among candidates so presented and endorsed by the Congressman from their district after competent and practical examination.

CRAZY WOMAN FOUND IN A HARLEM STREET.

Says "I Don't Know" to All Questions. She Is Probably Annie Lieberman.

A demented woman found yesterday morning in front of No. 903 West One Hundred and Seventeenth street is probably Annie Lieberman. Dr. Marcus Finkelstein, of No. 110 Livingston street, believes she is the woman of that name who formerly worked for him.

She was acting in such a peculiar manner that Policeman Tarbell took her to the West Side Court, whence she was committed to jail on a technical charge of vagrancy.

To all questions she answered, in German or English, "I don't know." Except when spoken to, she remained seemingly unconscious of her surroundings. The woman is about thirty-three years old, 4 feet 10 inches tall, and wears gold spectacles. She wore no hat, and her clothes are shabby.

LOVE OF HER CHILDREN HER SOLE GOOD TRAIT.

Colorado Prisoner Has Written Her Husband Telling Where She Put Them.

Canyon City, Colo., June 10.—Mrs. Henry Naylor, alias Lillie Williams, will probably be impelled by love of her children to return to her Chicago home when she is released from prison a year or two hence.

Mrs. Naylor kidnapped her four children from their father in 1891 and only a few days ago wrote him from prison telling of their whereabouts. They are in Denver, two having been adopted and the other two being in a public institution.

Mrs. Naylor was committed to the penitentiary in April, 1893, from Denver, with her brother, Otto Winkler; her sister, Mrs. Anna Watson, and John Watson, her brother-in-law, for shoplifting. Ever since she has been a trial to the officers and guards, being, as they term it, "a regular wildcat."

However, she has had one redeeming trait, and that is the love of her children. She worships them, and will go to almost any end to get news about them.

"FITZ" LEE'S SON A CADET NO MORE.

Dropped, with Seven Others of the Second Class, Which is an Unlucky One.

George Mason Lee, son of General Fitz-Hugh Lee, one of the most popular cadets at West Point, is among the eight second classmen "found" and dismissed from the Academy yesterday. Half the rest of his class are detained in camp for periods of from a week to half the summer for breaches of discipline. Instead of going home for the usual furlough given after two years of uninterrupted work.

The cadets went from barracks into camp yesterday, although they were unable to finish moving their beds. All slept on the pine floors of their tents.

AMERICA CONTROLS CHINA'S INTEGRITY.

Former Minister to Siam Barrett at a Breakfast Says the Empire is at Our Mercy.

John Barrett, former United States Minister to Siam, was entertained at breakfast yesterday by the American Asiatic Association. Cornelius Bliss presided.

In discussing the trade of the East, Mr. Barrett said: "If the United States in a diplomatic note or agreement recognizes 'spheres of influence' or the 'open door,' as advocated by Sir Charles Belfrage, all hope for the integrity of the Chinese Empire is gone."

"The Chinese Minister at Washington and our Minister at Peking will certify to the truthfulness of this statement."

GEN. WOOD COMING HOME.

Santiago's Model Governor Will Bring His Family and Return.

Washington, June 10.—General Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Santiago Province, has been granted leave of absence in order that he may bring his family back to the United States. They will go to Long Island, but General Wood himself will soon return to Santiago, where his administration has been continually held up as an example by the War Department.

Fell Three Stories—Unhurt.

Henry Torrens, fell from the fourth floor of a new building at No. 888 East One Hundred and sixtieth street yesterday. It was thought that he was dead, but he soon recovered, with no bones broken.

Former Judge Accused by Client.

Cleveland, June 10.—Valentine O. Osgood, who retired from the Common Pleas bench several months ago and who has since become a voluntary bankrupt, was arrested today charged by Joseph Conant, a wealthy man, with converting to his own use property worth $100.

Obituary Notes.

Dr. Simon S. Close, a dentist, with offices at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, died at his home yesterday, aged seventy years. He had made many contributions to the art of his profession. His widow and three children survive.

Major Jacob Herbert, a Civil War veteran, died yesterday at his farm near Freehold, which included the Revolutionary battle field of Monmouth. His father, General Obediah Herbert, served in the War of 1812. His daughters, Mrs. Mrs. M. G. O'Brien, are prominent members in the Society of the American Revolution.
